(President in the Chair.)

Presentation of Scroll to Senator Cole

Pursuant to the provisions of S. R. No. 713 previously adopted by the Senate, the President announced the appointment of the following as a committee to escort the distinguished guests to the President's Rostrum:

Senators Aikin, Bates, Crump, Harrington and Schwartz.

The committee escorted Senator and Mrs. Cole and Mr. Roy Porter of The Disabled American Veterans to the President's Rostrum.

The President presented Mr. Porter and he addressed the Senate as follows:

Texas Senator Criss Cole is about the most flexible legislator in the 59th Texas Legislature.

Point of this description is that this is his choice.

He learned in the Pacific about twelve feet from the enemy and a going Japanese machine gun that life is a choice.

From the time Cole chose to fight with the U. S. Marine Corps in 1940, his life changed completely. He was born in Oklahoma, 1918, grew up on a farm in northeast Texas in a family of ten children, attended three years of high school, joined the Civilian Conservation Corps at eighteen, and was 22 when he joined the Marines.

Cole was totally blinded on Tarawa by a Japanese hand grenade. He has been roughing it ever since: all the way from Guadalcanal and Tarawa to the Texas Capitol in Austin.

He has fought for his country, for his life, and, as a legislator, for laws to protect and give opportunity to the handicapped.

How? Better first determine "why"?

What has been a part of his life to make it go, to make people say about Cole that he never lost his vision of a future.

Criss Cole's trinity appears to be love, religion, and guts.

When he was blinded and recovering in a hospital, he let himself fall in love with a girl who visited him. Most important, he let himself be loved. Instead of closing off the world, he kept on in the human race and ended up with a wonderful wife and two children.

From the time he fell face down on a live hand grenade after he dodged one in the air, he let religion be his guide. Later, when he wanted to be a part of a city, his church activities gave him that opportunity to belong to his community.

He demonstrated sheer guts when he chose not to go back to a farm where he couldn't make his own way but instead picked out the busy city of Houston in which to find a job. He found one, after training with a Seeing-Eye dog, after trying for eight long months for the kind of a job that wasn't a hand-out.

He worked for Reed Roller Bit in an inspection job that required checking precision parts with a sensitive touch.

That wasn't enough. He went to business college at night and was able, therefore, to take state exams and gain a high school diploma.

He used the newly learned typing to become a legal typist of briefs in the legal department of the City of Houston.

And still he didn't settle into routine. His wanting to live was his fuel. He never allowed resignation in his makeup. Life, so daily to most people, was a personal experience. He woke up each day to live it, not avoid it.

Not depending on the Purple Heart to see him through with sympathy, he attacked the learning of law. He took pre-law courses at St. Thomas University and obtained a law degree from the University of Houston.

Cole has had a hard time thinking of himself as handicapped. He reflects self-reliance and there is no anxiety in his countenance.

But, he knows it took a long time for him to find his first job. And he's realistic about the need for laws to give the handicapped opportunity to help themselves.

He chose again to take new steps. He ran a race for the Texas House of Representatives, won a victory, was re-elected, and served eight years in the House.

In 1962, he ran for the Texas Senate and is now serving as State Senator from Harris County.

Cole lives at 6131 Hurst Street in Houston with his wife, Joanne, and their two sons, Dennis, 18, and Warren, 16.

This very likable slender and very often smiling Senator has been recognized with many awards of achievement. These include awards from the Wrambling Wrecks of Houston, the Blinded Veterans Association, the Texas-Louisiana Chapter of the Association of Physical and Mental Rehabilitation, the Texas Federation of the Blind, the 1960 Annual Outstanding Alumnus Award from the University of Houston College of Law.

He is an honorary member of Kappa Delta Pi for his contribution to the field of education. He is a member of the Eagles, the American Legion, the Army-Navy Association, and was a member of the Texas Legislative Council. He is the State General chairman for the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness, and a member of the Board of Directors of the Lighthouse for the Blind. In 1964, he received a distinguished service award from the Vocational Agricultural Teachers Association of Texas.

He is associated in the general practice of law with W. E. Crouch and K. M. Pacetti in the Melrose Building in Houston, Texas.

The Texas Senate salutes him on his birthday. There isn't a legislator among them that doesn't realize Cole is a worthy one to deal with when he makes up his mind to try for legislation for his district, his people, and the people of Texas who need a chance to make a living and help themselves regardless of physical status. He asks nothing for himself, but he is tough as nails when he's trying to pass laws to protect others.

Senator Cole's interest and experience in legislation has been wide and varied. The demands upon the Senator, who represents the largest senatorial district in Texas—a district with approximately one-eighth of the population of Texas, necessarily requires that Senator Cole thoroughly familiarize himself with all types of legislation and work closely with each of the 11 committees upon which he serves.

Cole, a 47-year-old Houston attorney, is serving as vice-chairman of two important committees during the current session—banking and insurance. His primary legislative interests, however, and his more notable accomplishments, probably have been in dealing with problems relating to health services, juveniles, and higher education.

Senator Cole has been particularly concerned with public health services. He has successfully sponsored legislation to authorize the Texas State Department of Health to cooperate with the federal government in the establishment of a Radiation Control Agency to license and register sources of radiation and to prohibit the mishandling of radioactive materials. Included among other health service legislation sponsored by the Senator for the general benefit of the state has been a resolution calling for a study of Texas bays. The Senator has served as a member of the committee in its study of water pollution along the Texas coast. Additionally, Senator Cole has authored strict legislation on driving while under the influence of narcotics.

Since his days as a member of the House of Representatives, Cole has been a staunch advocate of improving higher education in Texas. While in the House, he co-authored a bill providing state support for the University of Houston. In the Senate, in 1963, he sponsored legislation providing state support for the University's graduate school.

Intensely interested in the problems of handicapped in Texas, Senator Cole has addressed himself to vocational rehabilitation problems in a state which, up to this year, ranked 50th among all states in the amount spent, on a per capita basis, for vocational rehabilitation. In 1963, the Senator passed a resolution establishing a special study committee of the Texas Legislative Council to investigate rehabilitation of and services to the blind of Texas. Cole served as an ex officio member of the committee, attended all of its meetings, and introduced a number of bills in the 59th Legislature to improve weaknesses in existing programs for the blind. Among the various bills he has passed is included legislation which completely reorganizes various of these programs. All of the committee's recommendations for improved programs in Texas have been enacted into law this session through the efforts of Senator Cole.

For eight years, the Senator sponsored legislation to eliminate Texas' reputation as a "loan shark haven." Finally, in 1963, Senator Cole was successful in achieving the enactment of legislation regulating small loan companies.

The ever-increasing problem of juveniles are of continuing concern to Senator Cole. In the present session, he has sponsored bills to create a special juvenile court in Harris County and to reorganize the Juvenile Board.

Notwithstanding his successes to date, the Senator feels that he is just getting started in dealing with the many problems confronting Texas generally—and his area of the state particularly. A fair-minded individual who declines to accept any particular political label, Cole continues to be recognized for his restless quest for social justice—a quest which has earned him the title of the "people's senator" among experienced observers of the legislative process.

At the conclusion of the address, Mr. Porter presented Senator Cole with an illuminated honorary scroll.

The President then presented Senator Cole with a framed copy of Senate Resolution 713 which was adopted by the Senate.

Senator Cole addressed the Senate expressing appreciation for the honor bestowed upon him and also thanked Mr. Porter for his remarks honoring him on this occasion.

Senator Cole then presented guests here for the presentation.

On motion of Senator Hightower and by unanimous consent the address of Mr. Roy Porter was ordered printed in the Senate Journal.

House Concurrent Resolution 136 on Second Reading

On motion of Senator Hardeman and by unanimous consent, the President laid H. C. R. No. 136 before the Senate for consideration at this time. (The resolution having been read the second time on yesterday and amended and postponed until today.)

Question—Shall H. C. R. No. 136 be adopted?

Senator Dies offered the following amendment to the resolution:

On motion of Senator Hardeman and by unanimous consent the vote by which the amendment to H. C. R. No. 136 by Senator Moore was adopted on yesterday was reconsidered.

Senator Hardeman then by unanimous consent withdrew the amendment by Senator Moore.

Senator Moore then offered the following amendment to the resolution:

Amend H. C. R. 136 by adding the following, to be known as paragraph 13:

"13. At page V-51 add the following language to Section 57 which is captioned 'Interpretation of Legislative Intent';

It is specifically provided, however, that none of the moneys appropriated by this Act may be expended to pay the claim of any person against the State unless and until such claim has been pre-audited by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, and no claim shall be approved by the Comptroller for payment from the appropriations made herein except it be for an authorized public purpose for which an appropriation has been made. "Pre-audit" as used in this paragraph shall mean an examination of a claim prior to payment for its validity, accuracy of facts, and availability of appropriation. In such pre-audits of claims properly submitted to him, the Comptroller shall make such individual fact finding as he deems necessary to safeguard the rights of the State and to comply with Legislative intent as evidenced by this paragraph. It is also the intent of the Legislature that State agencies for which appropriations are made by this Act shall assist the Comptroller in such pre-audits by furnishing him with records, information, and other data necessary to audit properly any claim against the appropriations herein made. However, nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to give the Comptroller the right to refuse to pass for payment a legal claim, factually justified, for which a valid appropriation has been made."

The amendment was read and was adopted.

The resolution as amended was then adopted.

"43. Mode of Paying Poll Tax. The poll tax must be paid by the taxpayer in person or by a remittance of the amount of the tax through the United States mail to the county tax collector, accompanying the remittance with a statement in writing, signed by the taxpayer, showing all the information necessary to enable the tax collector to fill out the blank form of the poll tax receipt. When payment is made by mail, the tax collector shall mail the receipt to the taxpayer at the taxpayer's permanent address, or, if requested to do so by the taxpayer in writing, the tax collector shall mail the receipt to the taxpayer at such other address as the taxpayer directs, or shall hold the receipt to be delivered to the taxpayer in person. The husband or wife, father, mother, son, or daughter of a taxpayer may pay the tax for the taxpayer in either of the modes herein authorized, and may sign for the taxpayer when payment is by mail, and may receive the poll tax receipt issued to the taxpayer. Except as herein permitted, it shall be unlawful for any person to pay the poll tax of another or to act as agent for another in the payment of the tax. It shall be unlawful for the tax collector to mail or deliver a poll tax receipt to any person other than the taxpayer or a person lawfully acting in his behalf in the payment of the tax.

"The tax collector may at such places as shall in his discretion be necessary or advisable, have a duly authorized and sworn deputy for the purpose of accepting poll taxes and giving receipts therefor, and issuing exemption certificates; provided, however, that each commissioner and the County Judge in all counties having a population of more than six hundred thousand (600,000) inhabitants and less than nine hundred thousand (900,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding Federal Census may certify names of citizens to the assessor and collector of taxes and the assessor and collector of taxes upon receiving such names shall commission said citizens as duly authorized and sworn deputies for the purpose of accepting and selling poll taxes and giving receipts therefor, and issuing exemption certificates; such deputies shall serve without pay."

S. C. R. No. 110—Central Education Agency—Contracts with Vocational Teacher Training Institutions of Texas.

Whereas, There has been in recent years a tremendous increase in emphasis upon vocational and technical education in Texas, due to growing needs for training young people of this state for realistic employment opportunities; and

Whereas, As a consequence of these growing needs, vocational teachers should have readily available all of the research, technical information, and teaching materials relating to new and expanding areas of vocational opportunity; and

Whereas, The wording of Article IV, Section 38, page IV-70, House Bill No. 12, Acts of the 59th Legislature, 1965, has created some doubt as to the authority of the Central Education Agency with respect to these matters, and it is important that the Legislature express its intention in this regard in order to clarify the authority of the Central Education Agency; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Senate of the State of Texas, the House of Representatives concurring, That Article IV, Section 38, page IV-70, House Bill No. 12, Acts of the 59th Legislature, 1965, is not intended to prevent the Central Education Agency from entering into contracts with Vocational Teacher Training Institutions of Texas, as approved under the policies of the State Board of Vocational Education, to provide vocational education services, including in-service education, short courses, supporting youth activities, research and evaluation, development and preparation of teaching materials and aids, demonstration and experimental programs, and such other ancillary services as would improve the quality and enhance the opportunities of vocational training for the citizens of Texas.

Because of increasing emphasis upon vocational and technical education in Texas; because of growing needs for training young people for realistic employment opportunities; and because of the needs of vocational teachers for research, technical information and teaching materials essential to new and expanding areas of vocational opportunity; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That Section 38, page IV-70, H. B. 12, Fifty-ninth Legislature, is not intended to prevent the Central Education Agency from entering into contracts with Vocational Teacher Training Institutions of Texas, as approved under the policies of the State Board of Vocational Education, to provide Vocational Education Services to include in-service education, short courses, supporting youth activities, research and evaluation, development and preparation of teaching materials and aids, demonstration and experimental programs and such other ancillary services as would improve the quality and enhance the opportunities of vocational training for the citizens of Texas.

Amend Senate Bill 519 by striking out all below the enacting clause and substituting therefor the following:

"Section 1. Chapter 3 of the Insurance Code is hereby amended by adding thereto a new article to be designated as Article 3.39b, to read as follows:

'Article 3.39b. Variable Basis Annuity Contracts.

Sec. 1. Any domestic or foreign life insurance company authorized to do business in Texas may, upon approval of the State Board of Insurance, issue, deliver and use annuity contracts on a variable basis in accordance with the provisions of this Article and subject to rules and regulations promulgated by the State Board of Insurance.

Sec. 2. Upon such approval by the State Board of Insurance any such life insurance company issuing and delivering annuity contracts on a variable basis shall be subject to the following:

(a) Any such life insurance company which issues annuity contracts providing for payments in variable dollar amounts shall establish one or more separate accounts in connection with such contracts as directed by the State Board of Insurance. All amounts received by the company which are required by contract to be applied to provide such variable payments shall be added to the appropriate separate account, and the assets of such separate account shall not be chargeable with liabilities arising out of any other business the company may conduct. Any surplus or deficit which may arise in any such separate account by virtue of mortality experience shall be adjusted by withdrawals from or additions to such account so the assets of such account shall always equal the assets required to satisfy the company obligations under the contract applicable to such funds. Amounts allocated to a separate account in the exercise of the powers granted by this article shall be owned by the company and the company shall not be or hold itself up to be a trustee with respect to such amounts.

(b) The amounts allocated to each such account and accumulations thereon may be invested and reinvested in any class of investments without regard to any requirements or limitations prescribed by the other laws of this state governing the investments of life insurance companies; provided, that to the extent that the company's reserve liability with regard to (1) benefits guaranteed as to amount and duration, and (2) funds guaranteed as to principal amount or stated rate of interest is maintained in any separate account, a portion of the assets of such separate account at least equal to such reserve liability shall be invested in accordance with the other laws of this state governing the investments of life insurance companies. The investments in such separate account or accounts shall not be taken into account in applying the quantitative investment limitations applicable to other investments of the company.

(c) Assets allocated to a separate account shall be valued at their market value on the date of valuation, or if there is no readily available market, then in accordance with the terms of the contract applicable to such funds; provided that the portion of the assets of such separate account at least equal to the company's reserve liability with regard to (1) benefits guaranteed as to amount and duration, and (2) funds guaranteed as to principal amount or stated rate of interest maintained in the separate account, if any, shall be valued in accordance with laws otherwise applicable to the company's assets.

(d) No provision of this Article shall be deemed to authorize the investment of funds in real estate not authorized by other laws of this state.

Sec. 3. Any annuity contract issued, delivered or used in this state providing for the payment of benefits in variable amounts shall contain a statement of the essential features of the procedure to be followed by the company in determining the dollar amount of such variable benefits. Any such contract, including a group contract and any group certificate issued thereunder shall state that such dollar amount may decrease or increase and shall contain on its first page, in a prominent position, a statement that the benefits thereunder are on a variable basis.

Sec. 4. No individual annuity contract on a variable basis shall be delivered in this state unless it contains in substance the following provisions:

(a) That, in the event of default in the payment of any consideration beyond the period of grace allowed by the contract for the payment thereof, the insurance company will make payment of the value of the contract, in accordance with a plan provided by the contract, commencing not later than the date contractual payments by the company were otherwise to have commenced in accordance with the contract;

(b) That, upon request of the contract holder received by the insurance company at least 4 months prior to the date contractual payments by the company were otherwise to have commenced, the company will make payment of the value of the contract, in accordance with a plan provided by the contract and selected by the contract holder, commencing as of the first day of the first month which is at least 4 months after the date of receipt of such request, unless another date of commencement is requested by the contract holder and agreed to by the company;

(c) That the insurance company will mail to the holder of the contract at least once in each contract year after the first, at his last address known to the company, a report in a form approved by the State Board of Insurance, which shall include a statement of the number of units credited to such contract and the dollar value of a unit as of a date not more than 2 months previous to the date of mailing and a statement in a form and of a date approved by the State Board of Insurance of the investments held in the variable contract account.

Sec. 5. Any individual annuity contract on a variable basis delivered, issued for delivery, or used in this state shall stipulate the expense, mortality, and investment increment factors to be used in computing the dollar amount of variable benefits or other contractual payments or values thereunder, and shall guarantee that expense and mortality results shall not adversely affect such dollar amounts. The mortality and investment increment factors used in computing the dollar amount of variable benefits or other contractual payments or values under an individual contract on a variable basis shall not produce a larger initial payment than would be produced by the use of the 1937 Standard Annuity Mortality Table and an annual investment increment assumption of $3\frac{1}{2}\%$.

Sec. 6. The reserve liability for such variable annuity contracts shall be established by the State Board of Insurance pursuant to the requirements of the Standard Valuation Law in accordance with actuarial procedures that recognize the variable nature of the benefits provided.

Sec. 7. Illustrations of benefits payable under any annuity contract on a variable basis shall not involve projections of past investment experience into the future and shall conform with reasonable regulations promulgated by the State Board of Insurance.

Sec. 8. No agent of any insurance company heretofore or hereafter licensed pursuant to the provisions of the Insurance Code of The State of Texas shall be authorized to sell or act or aid in any manner in the negotiation of an annuity contract on a variable basis until he has registered pursuant to The Securities Act of Texas, being Chapter 269, Acts of the 55th Legislature, Article 581 Vernon's Annotated Texas Statutes, as amended, which registration shall be restricted and limited to the sale of variable annuity contracts under the provisions of this Act.

Sec. 9. No life insurance company shall be authorized to deliver, issue or use within this State any annuity contract providing benefits in variable amounts until said company has satisfied the State Board of Insurance that its condition or methods of operation in connection with the issuance of such contracts will not be such as would render its operation hazardous to the public or its policyholders in this state. In determining the qualification of a company requesting authority to deliver such contracts within this state, the State Board of Insurance shall consider, among other things.

(a) The history and financial condition of the company;

(b) The character, responsibility and general fitness of the officers and directors of the company;

(c) In the case of a foreign company, whether the regulation provided by the state of its domicile or province in which its head office is situated provides a degree of protection to policyholders and the public which is substantially equal to that provided by this article and the rules and regulations issued thereunder; and (d) In no case shall a company, domestic or foreign, be authorized to deliver such contracts within this state unless the State Board of Insurance finds that capital and surplus of such company exceed one and one-half million dollars.

Sec. 10. Any domestic life insurance company which establishes one or more separate accounts pursuant to this article may amend its charter to provide for special voting rights and procedures for such separate account contract owners giving them jurisdiction over matters relating to investment policy, investment advisory services and selection of certified public accountants, in relation to the administration of the assets in any such separate account. This provision shall not in any way affect existing laws pertaining to the voting rights of the company's policyholders.

Sec. 11. The State Board of Insurance is authorized and directed to issue such reasonable rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the purposes and provisions of this article, and the State Board of Insurance may require that no agent of any insurance company shall be authorized to sell or act or aid in any manner in the negotiation of an annuity contract on a variable basis until he has received a certificate to sell such contracts from the State Board of Insurance, which certificate, if required by the State Board of Insurance, shall not be issued by the State Board of Insurance until he has qualified by personal examination, to the satisfaction of the State Board of Insurance, as to his trustworthiness and competence to act as such agent.

Sec. 12. Any stock life insurance company which establishes and operates a variable contract account may withdraw therefrom for distribution to or for the benefit of stockholders in the form of dividends as to any calendar year in an amount which, when added to amounts so withdrawn as to the four (4) preceding calendar years, does not exceed 3% of the aggregate of gross investment earnings and the net of profits and losses of such account for such five (5) calendar years.

Sec. 13. The Commissioner of Insurance shall not approve any such variable annuity contract pursuant to the provisions of this Act until such variable annuity contracts are registered in accordance with Section 7 of The Securities Act of Texas, being Chapter 269, Acts of the 55th Legislature, Article 581, Vernon's Annotated Texas Statutes, as amended.

Section 2. This Act is cumulative of and in addition to, the authority granted by any other statute relating to separate accounts for insurance companies or to annuity contracts on a variable basis, and shall not restrict, limit or affect any other statute, or any bill which has been or may be enacted by the 59th Legislature.

Section 3. If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications to the Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable.

Section 4. The crowded condition of the calendar and the importance of this legislation, create an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the Constitutional Rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each House be suspended and said rule is hereby suspended; and this Act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted."

The substitute for the pending Committee Amendment was read and was adopted.

The Committee Amendment as substituted was then adopted.

Senator Hightower offered the following amendment to the bill:

Amend Senate Bill 519 by striking out all above the enacting clause and substituting therefor the following:

"A bill to be entitled an Act to amend the Insurance Code of Texas, as amended, by adding a new article designated as Article 3.39b; to authorize the issuance of contracts of insurance on a variable annuity basis subject to rules and regulations of the
